Human remains removed from road construction project

Human remains from a single grave were discovered Tuesday, Oct. 14, on a Lambert-St. Louis International Airport road construction project. Work on the relocation of McDonnell Boulevard is on Lambert property that is part of a former cemetery. Lambert contacted all appropriate authorities and was authorized to remove the remains from the site. They are being held pending a proper reburial.

Work on the new two-lane roadway was temporarily halted after the discovery. An archeologist is closely monitoring the status of the project in the event additional remains are discovered.

Lambert is the 30th busiest airport in the U.S. as ranked by Airports Council International-North America. Lambert serves more than 15 million passengers a year with more than 330 daily departures to 72 national and international destinations.
