USA3000 Airlines reinstates Summer Flights and Low Fares between St. Louis and Ft. Myers Philadelphia – March 2, 2010

USA3000 Airlines has announced that the company will be resuming nonstop service between Lambert-St. Louis International Airport and Ft. Myers' Southwest Florida International Airport.

"We are proud to offer our award winning customer service, low fares and excellent on time performance to our customers in the St. Louis and Ft. Myers markets," said USA3000 CEO, Steve Harfst.

Service resumes on May 27, 2010 and will extend through the summer to August 15th 2010. Early evening flights to Ft. Myers and evening flights to St. Louis are scheduled on Thursdays and Sundays for the duration of the season. All flights will be serviced by a state-of-the-art Airbus A320 aircraft.

"We're thrilled with the additional service to Ft. Myers," said Lambert Director Rhonda Hamm-Niebruegge. "South Florida is a key destination for the St. Louis region and we believe the route will be well supported."

To celebrate its resumed service, the air carrier is offering low introductory fares to Ft. Myers starting at $69.99 each way. Customers can book reservations today at USA3000's web site, www.usa3000.com, or toll free at (877) 872-3000.
