

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®

Oct. 16, 2009

“Traveling Tot”

Becky Patel watches her daughter while waiting for a flight in Concourse C.

Children don't need a directory to find the best place to hang out in an airport. Anywhere will do. Nine-month-old Pia Patel instinctively knows you should always be flexible when you travel. The floor is a great place to park and you can still people watch. It helps that Mom is always close by. We spotted Pia and her parents in the C Concourse while they waited to board a flight back home to San Francisco. Pia also got some serious training with the cell phone which is highly recommended by top travel pros.

®

©2009 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Office