

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®

Nov. 20, 2009

“Little Gifts”

UMSL student volunteers helped sell newspapers and collect donations at Lambert for Old Newsboys Day.

Lambert passengers were greeted by a small army of red-aproned volunteers on Thursday with a mission to help St. Louis children's charities. It was the third straight year Lambert has welcomed University of Missouri-St. Louis students and staff for Old Newsboys Day. The volunteers spread throughout the airport selling special edition newspapers and collecting “little gifts”- donations ranging from pocket change to 20-dollar bills. Paradise retail stores also set out collection cans at Lambert. Old Newsboys Day is a charity project of The Suburban Journals of Greater St. Louis which is in its 53rd year.

®

©2009 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Office