

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®
Sept. 25, 2009

“Reflective Tunes”

Pianist Bobby Schuessler entertains Lambert passengers and guests at Missouri Vineyards in the Main Terminal.

Few airports greet their passengers with live music, especially a setting like the new Missouri Vineyards wine bar and restaurant. Passengers can dine, relax and check out the great views of the airfield, all while listening to a live piano performance. That's relaxing. Lambert's piano was moved from its original Music Spot location a few months ago. It's a natural fit for a wine bar. Plus, the performer has a built-in seated audience. Travelers can still get tuned-in to other music performances at the other end of the Ticketing Hall.

®

©2009 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Office