

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®
March 5, 2010

“Spring Cleaning”

A two-man crew tackles just one of thousands of windows that have to be cleaned throughout the year.

Winter is departing. Spring is arriving. The weather shift signals the annual rite to spruce up. At Lambert, cleaning is a year round job. The warmer weather, however, makes it easier to tackle many projects. The Airport's window crews were busy this week washing away winter grime to get a clean shine inside Terminal 2. There are thousands of other windows in waiting for their routine scrub, which keeps crews springing to clean, daily.

®

©2010 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Offices