

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®
May 28, 2010

“Spray and Stencils”

Stencils and spray guns are crucial tools for Mick Jones and Lambert's airfield painters.

Stencils aren't just for kids. At Lambert, a five member airfield painting crew relies on giant-sized stencils and other tools to spray down letters, numbers and stripes to help pilots and airfield drivers navigate the airfield safely. In other words, these guys help make sure the pilot pulls up to the right gate (A3 above). Over the last several weeks, the paint crew has been going full force to spruce up markings after a winter hiatus.

®

©2010 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Office