

Photo of the Week

Lambert-St. Louis International Airport®
July 30, 2010

“Concrete Works”

A portable batch plant is erected at Lambert this week.

Another big concrete job is about to begin at Lambert. Workers will have a much more convenient and reliable concrete source because the contractor, Millstone Bangert, is able to operate a portable batch plant on the northwest end of the airfield. Over the next month, trucks will haul 18,000 cubic yards of concrete from the batch plant to replace a 2,000 ft section of taxiway Sierra, which runs parallel to Runway 6-24. The plant will produce other base paving material for the project as well.

®

©2010 Lambert-St. Louis International Airport · Public Information Office